

MORNING APPEAL

THURSDAY.....MARCH 8

L. P. Fisher, newspapers advertising agents, 21 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. This paper is kept on file in his office.

STEWART AND JONES.

It is certainly amusing the way the so-called Populist papers of Nevada have of quoting Senator Jones and Stewart. Senator Stewart is quoted as saying:

"Is it possible that there is still a man in Nevada who does not know that both the Republican and Democratic parties are in favor of a single gold standard, and that any aid to them in any form assists the gold combination."

Senator Jones declares that: "Any man that advocates the success of either those old parties there by ratifies, confirms and indorses the demonetization of silver, and their protests are simply shams, pretenses and frauds, emanating from such only as place party above country and the federal pie counter above general prosperity."

Granted that they used the above language. Who made it possible for them to occupy the position they now hold? Are those men going back on their life long principles, are they now going to turn upon those who have always been their bosom friends and denounce them as enemies to the best interest of Nevada? Certainly not.—Enterprise.

The people of the State of Nevada made it possible for both the senators to hold their present positions and two thirds of them to-day are in hearty accord with the senators in the patriotic stand taken by them. Neither Senator Stewart nor Senator Jones are going back on any life long principles, they are rather reaffirming those principles but in a new line and in such a manner as to be effective and at the same time retain their manhood and self respect, which no one can do who favors the free coinage of silver and remains in the Republican party.

HARRISON'S IDEA.

Bland knew what he was talking about when he declared in the House on Friday that all the talk about international bimetalism is pure humbug. The proof that it is humbug consists in the fact that the only ardent believers in the necessity of an international understanding to bring about bimetalism are those who are doing all in their power to bring the world to a single gold standard. It is possible that there may be an occasional sincere believer in the policy of deferring action calculated to restore silver to its old time place until an international agreement is reached, but it may be safely asserted that nineteen out of twenty who talk about international bimetalism are humbugs who desire nothing so much as to see silver permanently demonetized.—S. F. Chronicle.

The above is rather hard on Ben Harrison, as he is what is called an "international bimetalist," that is he favors cart wheel silver dollars at a ratio of about 35 to 1, whenever Europe says "yes." No man or paper, however, is worthy of being termed a bimetalist so long as either of the old parties are upheld in their further enslavement of the masses and when they are captured by such men as Sherman, Reed, Carlisle and Cleveland.—Silver State.

The comments in the Chronicle are in direct opposition to the expressed ideas of Harrison's speech which appeared in the local columns of the same issue of that paper.

Like A Dude.

Central City, Col., March 7.—In passing through the city on the mountain side to his mine Superintendent Jones yesterday morning made the discovery that the grave of Alfred Hocking had been opened and robbed. Hocking died in Denver about six weeks ago, after a protracted spree. He was about 60 years old and possessed of considerable means.

When he was on his death-bed he requested that as much money as could be spent should be lavished upon him after death. He wanted the most expensive coffin that could be had and his shroud must be of the best. His own words were, "Fix me up like a dude." His jewelry also must be buried with him, he said.

All his requests were carried out.

A ring on one of his fingers was valued at $400, and other jewelry and valuables were buried with him. He was an eccentric man and when drunk was positively ferocious. His wife feared for her life and left him and is now in England. A daughter lives in this city. The fact that valuables were buried was generally known and undoubtedly was the cause of the grave robbery.
